TRAGEDY, STRIFE IN UNI. AFFAIRS DURING SUMMER

Bitter Controversy
Between Officials;
Four New Regents.

STUDENTS MEET

An important page in University of Omaha history was written during the past summer—a page tinged heavily with bitterness and tragedy—the bitterness of controversy among University officials and the tragedy of the death of our beloved ex-President, William E. Sealock.

The discord in University affairs became apparent to the public in May, when Paul L. Martin resigned from the Board of Regents, of which he was vice-chairman. The following week the student body held two mass meetings. A student committee was appointed to investigate an alleged spy system. The student committee sent a letter to Mr. Martin, asking him to stay his resignation. At this time the Board of Regents met, leaving open three positions on that faculty.

Hold Mass Meetings

On May 29 another mass meeting was held by the students. At this assembly the existence of a spy system was confirmed by the President of the University. One week later the regents sat as a court of inquiry to hear the charges of a spy system. Faculty and students testified at this inquiry.

June 3 Frank T. B. Martin was re-elected and Hird Stryker was elected to the Board of Regents to fill the vacancy created by the expiration of the term of William T. Graham.

The existence of the spy system was refuted when the report of the investigation conducted by the regents was given to the press.

LLOYD BRADFIELD PSYCH PROFESSOR NEW DEAN OF MEN

Leaves of Absence To West, Witman, and Hammer.

ADD THREE MORE

Lloyd M. Bradfield, assistant professor of psychology, has been named to the position of dean of men. He succeeds Dr. William H. Thompson, head of the department of psychology.

Several other changes have been made in the university faculty for this year. Three professors have been granted leaves of absence and three new men have been appointed.

Miss Gertrude Kincaide has been appointed temporary head of the foreign language department while Dr. V. Royce West, head of the department, is on a semester's leave of absence, during which he will teach at Heidelberg University, Germany.

Dr. A. Dayle Wallace of Texas will replace Mr. Hugh R. Orr, who resigned last spring. He will also take over some of the work of Dr. West and serve as temporary head of the Board of Student Publications. Professor Wallace received his A. B. and M. A. degrees from Texas Technology College. He received his Ph. D. degree in English at Yale University. While at Yale Dr. Wallace had a very high academic record. He also

"To the Students of the Municipal University of Omaha:

"I appreciate the opportunity The Gateway gives me to send a greeting to the student body. I wish it were possible to have a half hour's chat with each of you within the next month, so that I might know first-hand what you are hoping to get from your college education and what you plan to do with that education after you get it. Since it is clearly impossible to do this within a month, I am depending on this brief statement of good-will now, and hope as the weeks go by to come to know you personally.

"The young people of today in some ways have a harder task to get started up the ladder to success than the young people of last generation. Most persons feel that the right kind of college education helps. We wish to work together so that the University of Omaha may give you more and more help in this task of finding yourself and building your future."

Rowland Haynes

John Moucka returned to the campus yesterday from Camp Perry, Ohio, where he has been participating in a rifle contest. Moucka was sent to Ohio from the C. M. T. C. at Des Moines, Iowa.

Miss Harriet Hicks, secretary to Dr. W. H. Thompson, will leave soon for Ohio State University to study on a fellowship. She will work in the psychology department.

HAYNES APPOINTED OMAHA UNI. PREXY BY REGENT BOARD

Former Administrator of Govt. Relief Aid for Nebraska.

WELFARE WORKER

Rowland Haynes, former federal relief administrator of Nebraska, assumed the presidency of the University of Omaha with the opening of the fall session. He was named to the position in August, succeeding the late Dr. William E. Sealock, the first president of the Municipal University, by the Board of Regents.

Mr. Haynes has spent twenty-nine years in welfare work and nine years in the field of education, and has had a long and successful career.

President Haynes was born in Worcester, Massachusetts. He is the son of a grammar school principal. He attended grade school in Worcester and later he received his Master's Degree there from Clark University.

Studied in the East

After receiving his B. A. from William College in 1902, Mr. Haynes attended the Union Theological Seminary in New York City and at the same time did graduate work at Columbia University. Having completed his studies at Clark University he became an instructor in psychology at the University of Chicago and after a year there taught at the University of Minnesota.

Following five years spent as

University Plant Pushed by Board; No Federal Grant

Following the rejection of the University's application for a 45 per cent government grant by the PWA administration, the regents announced that they would go ahead with their plans for a new university plant without the federal aid.

President Rowland Haynes went to Washington and interviewed Senator Burke of Nebraska and Administrator Hopkins about the proposed grant. The University's project was rejected because the cost of materials and skilled labor was too high compared to the number of persons who would be given employment.

It was suggested by the PWA engineering department that the government might approve a smaller grant, but this would curtail the University building program. The University has available this year a building fund of approximately 200 thousand dollars and approximately 100 thousand dollars will be added to the fund by the end of the year from the regular revenue and a "tax claim" against the city of Omaha. The whole matter has now been referred back to the building and grounds committee of the board of regents.

CUPID IN ACTION

Archer Has Good Season

By DAN CUPID
Special Gateway Correspondent

Boy, did I have a busy summer with those Omaha University lads and lassies!

I used up enough arrows to outfit a tribe of Omaha Indians and sent a rushing business to the jeweler, the license clerk and the canned goods department.

My season opened unexpectedly when one dark night Mary Riggs stole off to Fremont with Erwin Towl—and was everyone surprised! Even the Sig Chis weren't in on the trick I was pulling.

One of the sweetest romances I ever started was climaxed with Marion Wilson saying "I do" to Harland Mossman. May their wedded life be as happy and beautiful as their courtship! Bosh, I'm getting to be a sentimental old fool.

I got very impatient waiting for Jeanne Ross and Gene Hoover to make up their minds, but they finally took a trip over to Glenwood and came back "Mr. and Mrs." Perhaps they were just waiting for Gene to get that job over in Des Moines, because living on love is easier said than done these days.

Virginia Harkins packed up her red woollens and met Paul Ohlander in Seattle, where the two were made one, and they left immediately to brave the ice and snow on St. George Island, Alaska, for a year. A plucky girl and a lucky boy! I always knew I started something good there.

Frank Hummel says he did his best to make a girl from his home

WELCOME, PRESIDENT HAYNES

On behalf of the student body, The Gateway welcomes President Haynes to the campus of the University of Omaha, and promises the full co-operation of the staff and the students in making his presidency here enjoyable and successful.

President Haynes has stated that he accepted his position here because he has a genuine belief that municipal universities will play an important part in the American educational system of the future. Furthermore, President Haynes is confident that the University of Omaha will eventually carry out its long proposed expansion program and will become one of the leading municipal universities.

Mr. Haynes has had experience in the handling of government funds and he had hardly stepped into his office as president before he was sent to Washington to interpose on behalf of the University in securing a government grant. When the government rejected the university's proposal, President Haynes did not give up, but immediately went to work with the regents.

The ultimate goal of the regents, the students, the faculty and the alumni is a great University of Omaha. With a man who has courage and vision and faith in the future of the university to direct the course of the University of Omaha, that goal shall be reached.

YAWN OF THE WEEK

Somebody named Charles B. Hudson is quoted in the papers as stating that the teachings of Communism "are prolific in the Municipal University of Omaha and at Lincoln."

Ho hum!

SUPPORT THE TEAM

Up to the present time the student body of the University of Omaha has not supported its athletic teams, in spite of the fact that the teams have rated highly in midwest athletic conferences. This year marks the beginning of a new era in Omaha university athletics, with the university playing its first full schedule of North Central Conference games.

The members of this conference have strong teams backed by enthusiastic student bodies. The students of the University of Omaha should feel obligated to support their teams in a whole-hearted fashion.

Several groups on the campus are attempting to organize pep squads for the games this year. At present Phi Sigma Chi, national women's pep organization, is carrying out an extensive expansion program. If the women on the Omaha campus would form a real pep squad, there is a possibility that it might become a chapter in this national group.

If the members of Greek organizations, as well as the barbs, would attend the games and then give their teams the support which they do deserve, there is no doubt that Omaha university would advance in the eyes of the public, carrying on the record made in previous years.

Thru The Keyhole

Virginia Lee Long seems to be quite happy about all those letters from Utah; go west, young lady, go west....Kozak wants us all to know that he has a blind date for the Pan-Hel just in case. John Pearson didn't do so bad in Minnesota; so maybe Kozak won't....How's your friend in Chicago, Cliff? I hear her old man is pretty fast. Well, anyhow, track season isn't so terribly far away....Dear Lewie, Davis breaks 'em; Tommie makes 'em. Get it?....Did you ever stop to think that every man may have one wife, but the ice man has his pick....Minnette Meyers and C. Rogers at the Pan-Hel....Will somebody explain that? Robt. S. is gone, but surely not forgotten....Vogel's attention seems to be centered off the campus at present....Poem for the week—

There was an old maid in Paris,
Of men she had mortal terrors.
She lived an old maid,
She died an old maid;
No hits, no runs, no errors.

What Pi O pledge was picked up by a cop in front of Joslyn Hall?...Why is it so hard to check books out of the Library?...Troy Woerner, Rose Weber, and Don Peterson are among several of the old guard returning to school this semester after several years' intermission....The dirt has been rather scanty this week as there have been no dances yet, but wait until after the Pan-Hel. Somebody is always falling downstairs or forgetting where they parked the car....What ex-Theta pledge reversed the decision against him by pledging Phi Sig? Another case of quitting before you are fired, or as the old refrain runs, "I Just Can't Take It, Baby"....As next fall is election time we might suggest that the Regents re-apply for Federal aid, enclosing a complete list of Democrats attending Omaha U. with their application....Ah! an athlete with a conscience. Kaaua is driving the Bursar's office mad with demands for work. Seems as though the Hawaiian delegation means business....What Theta (initials B. J.) put alligators in Rogers' car?...Unusual sights—a pledge taking Dutch Hesler's ale away from him....Also Woerner attending all his classes....Scop....Nygaard and Coulter are no longer thisa and thataway about each other. Source of information—confidential....Wonder what Pearey will do now that Fair has gone to teach at Midland?

"The Evening School"—September Survey Graphic.
(Zoe Tiffany)

September Survey Graphic contains a very interesting article about evening schools and what happens in their classes. The account is written by Zoe Tiffany, who has been for fifteen years a teacher in the public schools of a city in northern California.

To be either teacher or student in an adult class seems high adventure as this California educator tells how people are learning "to make circuses for themselves" these days, and pictures the men and women of widely different background, experience, and ambition whom she has known at evening school.

Our "circuses," our means of arriving at happiness today, are not those which would have had much appeal when money was more plentiful. The program of the New Deal gives only mere subsistence to the older ones of us, and such programs cannot take into account at all the desire for things that make for contentment and mental well-being.

"Increasing numbers of adults and young adults are turning to evening schools, to university extension courses, and to other agencies for adult education to find for themselves a way to broader experience and inner satisfaction. There are many foreigners who are forever grateful and remain my close friends because I help to educate them to become American citizens. This great naturalized group seeks educational opportunities which shall meet their needs."

But what of our native Americans in an evening school? There are hard-working airplane mechanics who devour page after page of Boswell's Johnson. There is the meat cutter who has given his evenings to making the acquaintance of Falstaff and Henry IV. A young girl, lame and deaf, supports herself and her mother with a small, book-mending job at the library by day and typing endless, last-minute theses for dilatory students by night. "I watch her with infinite respect as she limps in for some bits of learning which may help her to piece together a little of the pattern represented by those fragments of law, archaeology, chemistry, philosophy, literature, and history which nightly form so intriguing a puzzle."

Zoe Tiffany thinks most schools fall this multi-tude in that their "planning" committees are too "wooden" and lack vision and sympathy. She feels that "educators" should not put too much faith in "committees making social research, whatever that may be," and in convention reports in other towns, but should "get down into the thick of the crowd and try to sell it to us."

The article is worth a perusal. Read it.

Faculty Members
Vacation Abroad
Or Tour America

Teaching summer school may have delayed the vacations of many members of the faculty of the University, but it did not prevent them from making extended trips to various parts of the United States and Europe.

After the summer school session, Dr. Lyman H. Harris, professor of history, hastened to his home in Tiptonville, Tennessee.

Although the affairs of the University kept Dr. Edgar A. Holt, dean of the University, here most of the summer, he spent three weeks at his home in Tazewell, Tennessee. Returning to Omaha, he stopped in Chicago to visit President Rowland Haynes.

Miss Grace Gunn, instructor in mathematics, attended summer school in Berkeley, California.

Mrs. Pearl Weber, instructor in psychology, attended the summer session at the University of Chicago and later visited at the Double L Bar dude ranch in Ishawooa, Wyoming.

Miss Margaret Gloe, assistant in the history department, did graduate work at the University of Wisconsin.

Mrs. Mildred Gearhart, instructor in English, accompanied by her small daughter, vacationed in the Black Hills of South Dakota.

Miss Hildegard Staus, instructor in German, traveled abroad in England, France and Germany. Dr. Benjamin Boyce, head of the English department, also spent his summer in England.

Miss Gertrude Kincaide, instructor in French, spent three weeks in Boise, Idaho. She took a boat trip from Seattle, Washington, to Victoria, British Columbia. Miss Kincaide stopped in Yellowstone Park on her trip home.

You, Me, the Gatepost

With this issue of The Gateway, the old school swings back into normal activity, and it now behooves me to take upon myself the sacred and divine duty of warning all frosh and newcomers, never under any circumstances to take anything said in this column too seriously. No rib.

Here's to a freshman in the school who has been working quite strenuously to organize a band for football games and other activities. The upperclassmen are all too busy. His initials are Pat McNaughtin. He's one boy who shouldn't have to blow his own horn.

It's harder than you think to give a rushee the impression you're doing him a favor when he knows darn well you're not.

Song Hits of the Week: The NH40H song: Ammonia Bird in a Guilted Cage. Then we have that hauntingly popular little song, the Tarzan song: Goodnight, a Tarzan Goodnights.

Thought for the week (weak): Marriage is a wonderful institution, but who wants to live in an institution all his life?

A Freshman and Theta pledge has sort of a hankering to become a song writer. He claims he wrote Sweet Sue, but he hasn't received an answer yet. Go on, Bob, you big bag of muscles.

By Coll. Digest

A regular pictorial review of the news of the college world will be featured each week in the Collegiate Digest section of The Gateway, the first issue of which appears with this edition.

A new and outstanding feature of the issues this year will be the unusual Speed Graph photos taken with the "Magic Eye" camera and depicting the continuous motions of athletes in action. The remarkable photos have been made possible recently by the invention of a camera which "stops" the various movements of people in action.

The first issue features the biography of America's greatest humorist, Will Rogers, presenting many heretofore unpublished facts about his life.

Students of the University of Omaha are urged to send photos to the editor of Collegiate Digest at P. O. Box 472, Madison, Wisconsin. Regular newspaper rates are paid for all photos accepted for publication.

OMAHA CARDINALS PLAY MORNINGSIDE AT LEAGUE PARK

First North Central Conference Contest
Saturday Night.

MANY VETS BACK

Tomorrow night at League Park the Omaha Cards will play their first game in the North Central Conference with Morningside, another dark horse in the conference. Just how badly the lack of reserve strength will handicap the Cards will become apparent during the battle.

Morningside will arrive with a full strength team determined to dish out a beating to the Omahans, but as the Cards have had so little practice, being on the receiving end of a defeat, the resulting melee will be an interesting one to watch. Coach Hartman is doubtful as to the results of the game Saturday, as the three-year ruling has removed some much needed material from the first string.

Incidentally our new assistant coach, Johnny Baker, will have an opportunity to watch his proteges under fire for the first time. He has been doing some extensive line coaching for the past few weeks. According to the books Omaha should take the Sioux City team, but the lack of reserves on Omaha's part may result in an upset.

PHI SIGMA PHI

Phi Sigma Phi fraternity will hold its pledging Monday, September 23.

Schedule for 1935

September 21—Morningside at Omaha, 8:00 P. M.
September 27—Ottawa at Ott-awa.
October 4—Wayne at Wayne.
October 11—Kearney at Kear-ney.
October 25—Peru (Homecom-ing) at Omaha, 2:00 P. M.
November 2—South Dakota University at Vermillion.
November 11—North Dakota State at Omaha, 2:00 P. M.
November 16—North Dakota University at Omaha, 2:00 P. M.

Orchesis Group Dances In Iowa

Miss Ruth Diamond, head of the women's physical education department of the University, has been invited to give a lecture-demonstration on "Dancing in the Physical Education Program" before a session of the Southwest Iowa Teachers' Convention, to be held in Council Bluffs October 10.

The Orchesis dancing group will be used as demonstrators for the meeting and will start preparations for the event at their first regular meeting of the semester, according to Miss Diamond. The demonstration will feature both techniques of modern dancing and dance compositions.

The group will hold its first regular meeting of the semester in the gym Thursday, September 26, at 6:00 o'clock.

FORM NEW CLASSES

Two additional women's physical education classes have been organized as a result of the increased fall enrollment. A regular physical education class has been opened at 9:45 on Tuesday and Thursday, and an advanced dancing class has been made available at 11:00 on Thursday.

The first week has been devoted to medical and physical examinations, and regular classes are scheduled to begin Thursday, September 19.

Miss Ruth Diamond, head of the department of women's physical education, was called to Lincoln early this week on account of the serious illness of her father. Because he showed much improvement she returned to school.

Three Hawaiians Begin Studies At Omaha University

Three young men whose homes are in Honolulu, Hawaii are now enrolled as students at Omaha University. Two of them, Jack Kaaua, and Steve Hopper, made the 4,000-mile trip to arrive in Omaha only a week ago. Sam Reimann, the third, persuaded them to come to the University.

Reimann, who took his first year of pre-med work at Simpson college, Indianola, met Jimmy James in Council Bluffs during the summer vacation. Jimmy is an Omaha U. senior and star football player. They saw a great deal of each other and Sam promised to come to Omaha for the rest of his pre-medical course.

Jack Kaaua studied last year at the University of Hawaii, and is taking a coaching course here. Steve Hopper is registered as a Freshman in the Business Administration College.

All three of the boys are out for football and are interested in track.

"The University of Hawaii is the best in the world for sugar technology," stated Reimann, "but staying at home was too much like continuing on at high school, the same friends, school work, and amusements. The tuition is about the same in Honolulu as at the Municipal University of Omaha." He hopes to practice medicine in Germany upon completion of his medical course.

Elect Hoisington Scouting Head

An election of officers featured the first regular meeting of Alpha Phi Omega, which was held Wednesday evening at the home of George Alexander, retiring president.

The fraternity, which is a National Scouting Service group, chose the following men to serve for the current school year: Elbert Hoisington, president; Marion Earhart, vice-president; John Miller, secretary; Edward Carlson, treasurer, and Edward Scouten, historian.

A tentative fall program and plans for pledging were decided upon.

Award Twenty Scholarships

Twenty members of the junior and senior classes have been granted scholarships for the current semester, according to an announcement made by Dean Edgar A. Holt, of the Arts and Science College.

These awards are made on a basis of scholarship and contribution to extra-curricular activities, according to Dean Holt. The selections were made from a group of fifty applicants.

W. A. A. BOARD MEETS

A schedule of women's athletic events was formulated at a special W. A. A. board meeting held last Monday noon, and includes soccer, archery, hiking and orchesis (dancing).

The program, which is open to all University women, reserves Tuesday afternoons at 4:00 o'clock for archery, soccer on Monday afternoons, hiking on Wednesday, and orchesis on Thursday.

This schedule will remain in effect until the Thanksgiving holidays, when the program will be transferred indoors.

Bernice Perimeter, archery sports head of W. A. A., while practicing for the first time of the season last Tuesday, succeeded in chalking up nine bullseyes at a distance of fifty yards. She was one of the members of last season's archery team, which competed in the Interscholastic Archery Meet.

Stryker Tells Regent's Aims

"The ambition of the board of regents is to build a great university, not a mediocre or an ordinary university, but a great university here in Omaha," stated Hird Stryker, a member of the board, before a group of one hundred and sixty alumni, faculty, regents and interested citizens assembled at the Elks' club last Tuesday evening to welcome President Rowland Haynes.

Speaking on behalf of the board, Stryker said: "There is no doubt but what the differences and disagreements on the board have hurt the University, but there will be no more of that. We are going to take the board of regents off the front page."

Mayor Roy N. Towl extended a welcome from the city of Omaha to President Haynes. Two University of Omaha alumni, Mr. Irvin Stalmaster and Mrs. Mary Uhl Collins, made short addresses offering the co-operation of their group to the new president. Harry Byrne, '05, was the toastmaster of the evening. President Haynes made a few remarks at the conclusion of the speeches.

Five Students Pass CLU Tests

All the men students from Omaha University taking the life insurance exams given by the American College of Life Underwriters last June passed the tests. The University night school offers courses which prepare insurance men for these exams.

The tests are held annually by the ACLU and men passing them receive the designation CLU. This corresponds to a CPA in accounting.

Those passing the tests who took courses from the University under Dr. J. H. Rhoads were J. E. Moss, Kenneth Snyder, Edward Phelps, Dave Noble, and Edwin Gould.

town hate him, but she just wouldn't, thanks to me, and so he married the girl.

Marlin Wilkinson made a long shot at the hoop and ended up putting a loop around the finger of Nellie Wilson.

Cherrie Fuller gave the Phi Delt a very decided shock when she announced at one of their rush parties that she had been married for two weeks. Unlike the other newlyweds, Cherrie is going to continue her college education.

Just last week the pretty, black-haired Maxine Doan became the dearly beloved of John Gardner, just a brother to Charlie, whom I never seem able to catch. There'll come a day!

Of course, you know there are those couples that you know are going to get married some of these days, but they really make life awfully dull for me when they don't do something about it. I guess that I will just sit back this fall and see what happens. There are a lot of nice eligible freshman girls and perhaps some of these dashing, daring upper classmen will take a tumble they weren't looking for. I really needn't worry and I do need a rest. There is always the spring to look forward to, when "the young man's fancy lightly turns to what the girl has been thinking about all winter."

Three teachers will be added to the faculty of the extension division this semester. Harold Larson will teach history, Leon Smith, education, and J. M. Weidenschilling, German.

Haynes Appointed Omaha Uni. Prexy field secretary of the Playground and Recreation Association of America, President Haynes became the secretary of recreation for New York City in 1911. During the World War he was loaned to the United States as director of the New York war camp community service. In 1920 he became the director of the recreation council of Cleveland and two years later he was made head of the Cleveland welfare council.

Secretary at Chicago

From 1927 to 1931 Mr. Haynes was secretary of the University of Chicago. Until he became relief administrator in Nebraska he served as a field worker for President Roosevelt's unemployment relief.

Mr. Haynes came to Omaha August 23 and was on the campus for several days. He was then called to Washington to confer with PWA officials upon the proposed quarter of a million dollar grant for expansion of the University. President Haynes returned to Omaha Monday with Mrs. Haynes, who has been vacationing with their children at Mystic, Connecticut.

Koehler Visits Here

Among the prominent educators who lectured at the University of Omaha during the summer session was Dr. Wolfgang von Koehler, eminent Gestalt psychologist.

Professor Koehler is now an instructor at the University of Leipzig. He was one of the founders of the Gestalt psychology school in 1912. He has made extensive psychological studies, many of which have been published, of the ape and chimpanzee.

QUIET SIGNS PREVAIL IN RENOVATED LIBRARY

By ROSELLA PRALL

The library has been transformed. New books. New equipment. New walls.

Over one thousand new books have been added to the library. Each department has gained. A wide range of books from fiction to practical subjects, such as the Natural Sciences, fill the shelves. An especially interesting section is that of some of the older English fiction, such as Lorna Doone, Vanity Fair, and Ivanhoe.

The art collection is becoming strong with quite a few new publications. The German department has also profited.

New card and filing cabinets have been added.

Four "Quiet" signs replace the "Silence" of other years.

"Silence in the study room," smiled Miss Inez Chestnut, librarian, "is an impossibility. However, students can be reasonably quiet."

"Thought has been given to the welfare of the students themselves," explained Miss Chestnut. "For one thing, the circulation and charging desks are now concentrated in the northeast room, which was once reserved for freshmen readings. This arrangement helps keep the reading room quiet for the students by eliminating much traffic."

Remember the blackboards on the walls around the large study room? The blackboards are now down. New, white, paneled walls take their place. The west end of the room is entirely devoted to magazines. There will be more new magazines later.

The library staff has issued these suggestions to help students make better use of their study time:

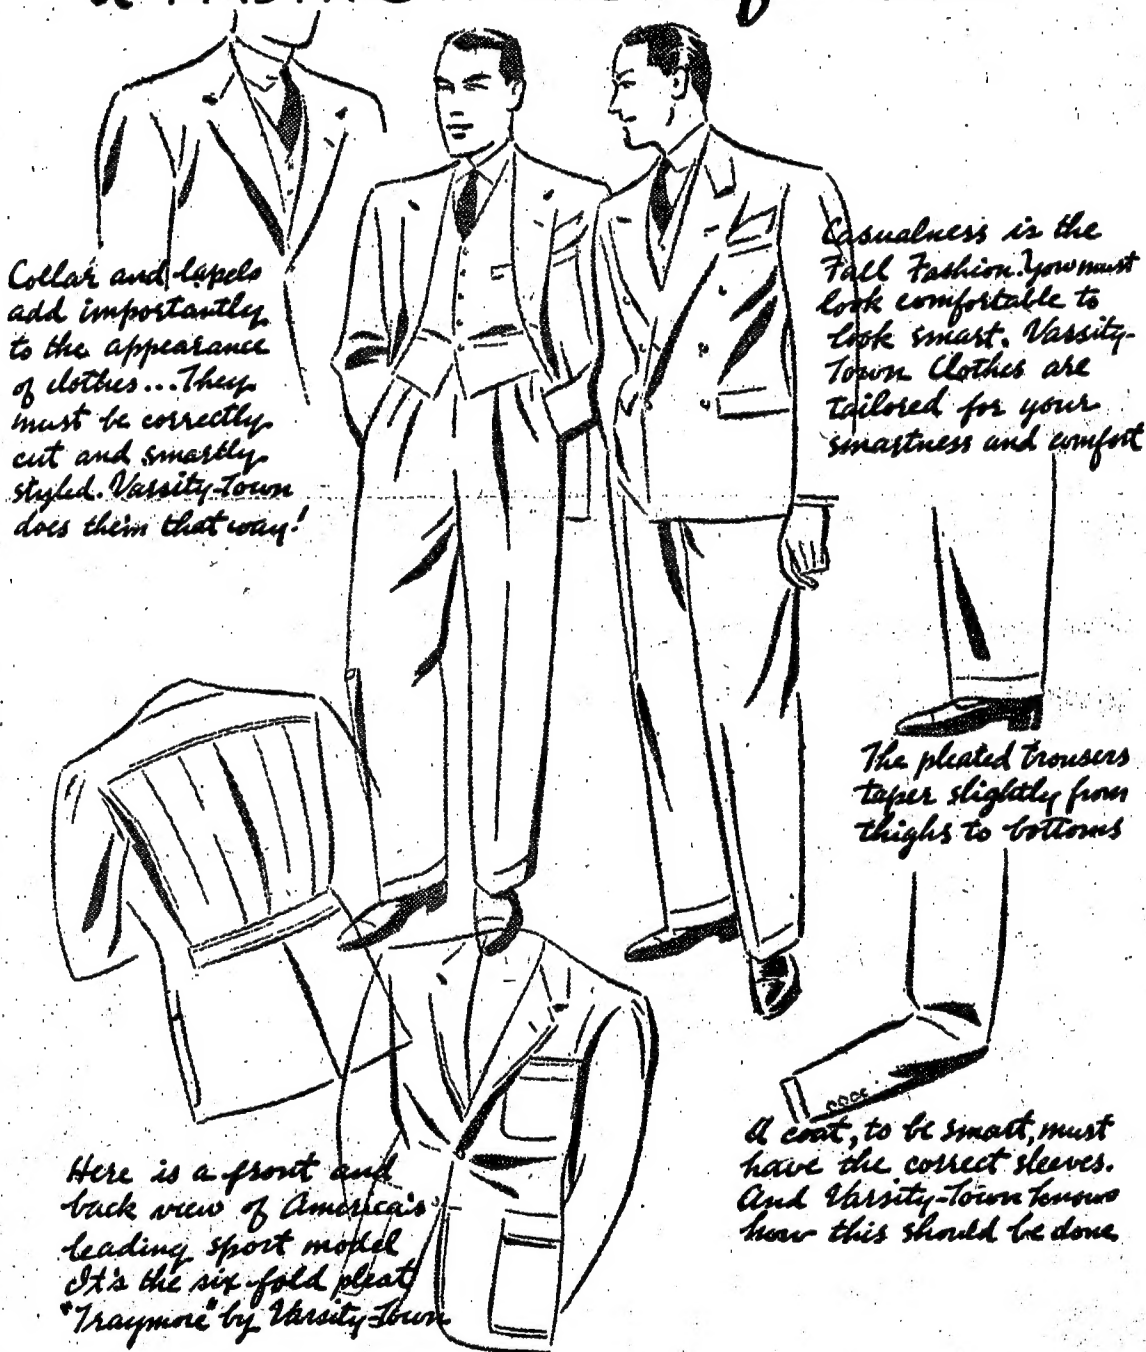

Students are urged to come to the library at the beginning of hour periods. This is the best time to secure a reserve book, and get settled for an hour's work.

Study your schedule and plan your reading hours as you plan your class hours.

Ask the librarians about magazines, references, and the use of books.

One DON'T: Please do not walk around the room and visit with other students.

on June 26. At this time Dr. William H. Thompson was re-elected to the faculty as head of the department of psychology, leaving the position of Dean of Men to be filled at a later date. Everett M. Hosman was also re-elected as director of the extension division. The presidency of the University was left open.

Ramsey Resigns

Several days later William C. Ramsey, a regent, resigned, protesting the action taken by the Board. Students and interested citizens met together at a protest meeting. The controversy was taken to the Board of Education. An association of alumni of the Municipal University was formed.

Overcome by the troubles of the University and by ill health, Dr. Sealock took his life on July 7th. He died in the arms of his friend and neighbor, Paul L. Martin. The grief-stricken student body and faculty made public pledges to carry on the ideals and aims of Dr. Sealock, who had been President of the University since it had been made a municipal institution in 1931.

NYA Gives Work To 57 U. Students

Fifty-seven students at Municipal University of Omaha are receiving student aid from the N. Y. A., National Youth Administration, this semester.

Of the 57, 29 are men, and 28 are women. They will receive fifteen dollars a month for work which must be socially desirable, and must not replace students already working for departments, but must supplement them.

Jacobberger were elected by the school board as regents on July 15. With a full Board the regents published a statement asserting that the presidency had not been filled because it was felt that Dr. Sealock was a poor executive.

Two days later Dr. William L. Shearer resigned from the Board and Col. George A. Skinner was named to his place.

A new executive for the University was not appointed until a month later. On August 15 it was announced that Rowland Haynes, former FERA administrator for Nebraska, had been selected to head the University of Omaha.

Dr. Benjamin Boyce has been made head of the English department to succeed Mr. Orr, acting head of the department.

Professor Dayton E. Heckman of Edon, Ohio, will fill the one-year vacancy left by Professor Shepherd L. Witman, who is on leave of absence to teach political science at Yale University. For the past three years he has been an assistant in the political science department at Ohio State.

Mr. Irwin A. Hammer, associate professor of education, has been granted a year's leave of absence, during which he will do graduate work at Columbia university.

Harry L. Severson of South Dakota will replace Dr. Claude W. Stimson as associate professor of economics. Mr. Severson received his A. B. degree from the University of Minnesota and his M. A. degree from the University of Chicago, where he is also completing his work for a Ph. D. degree. For Student Council elections will be held soon to select the Freshman council members and to replace those who were elected last year, but are not in school this year. At the same time the officers of the classes will be selected.
